LETTER OF APPRECIATION

Subject: Acknowledgement of Mr. Manvendra Singh Chhajerh for volunteering in teaching.

Sir/Madam,

With due respect I would like to express my sincere admiration for the contributions made by Mr. Manvendra Singh Chhajerh(USN: 1RV17IS020), from the Department of Information Science & Engineering, RV College of Engineering in teaching and guiding students from various batches of our department.

Manvendra is a hardworking student and has taken many initiatives from time to time in conducting several activities for helping his juniors and fellow batch mates. He has guided them with various sessions on basics of python, competitive programming, machine learning and deep learning during June - July 2019 as well as during weekends in the 2019-20 academic year. He has also had active participation in helping students of the department during the placement drive carried out in college during his final and pre final academic year.

He has not only volunteered for different activities but has also made sure that he is doing well in his academics which can be seen through his performance in all classes along with his academic records. Manvendra is a strong and brilliant candidate to fit in any role related to programming as he has demonstrated excellence in academics as well as strong leadership capabilities which have been noted during his volunteering duration.

I am proud to say that with the skills Manvendra has developed over his course at the college, he has been able to help various students in several fields and excelled in them himself and I highly appreciate all the efforts carried out by him to help others while growing in various fields himself and am delighted to have him as a student under my guidance.

Regards,

Dr. B. M. Sagar,
Professor & HoD,
